Parents prepare for middle school battle

On the trail of ghosts and ghouls

CROWDS flocked to be frightened by gruesome goings-on along the Hallowe'en Trail last Friday at Haverhill's East Town Park.

The popular annual event, staged by Haverhill Town Council, involved a ghoulish trail around the park where brave souls encountered all sorts of weird and wonderful creatures, sights, lights and sounds. Those attending the free event were encouraged to dress the part and children took part in half-term workshops to create masks, mini movies and sound effects to be used on the trail. Nick Keeble, the council's leisure manager, said: "The numbers were about the same as usual, but it lasted longer because we had a strange zombie act holding people up along the way. It was a really good evening. Lots of people dressed up and we were really pleased, it was a really good natured event."

PARENTS at Clare have launched a campaign to save their middle school with plans to convert it into a new high school.

Headteacher Nigel Evans is supporting the move to fight the closure.

Suffolk County Council this week launched the next round of consultation on schools reorganisation in the Haverhill area, with three options under consideration.

One is to retain the existing primary school structure – as well as Castle Manor and Samuel Ward upper schools in Haverhill – and to create a third upper school at the Clare Middle School site.

But the county council's preferred option is to create a federation of upper and primary schools in Haverhill, with a third option to create two "all-through" schools in Haverhill.

A report on the review stated the county council wanted to "improve the perception of Haverhill and aim to attract children from out of the area to local schools".

Parents who have formed the Clare and Local Area for Rural Education (CLARE) group believe if enough pressure is applied they can persuade councillors to change their minds and retain the Clare school.

Fundraisers in the pink for charity

A PINK glow filled a gym as members of an RPM cycling class pushed their pedals in aid of a breast cancer charity. Abbeycroft Leisure offered everyone the opportunity to go along to an exercise class for free as part of Breast Cancer Awareness month, wearing an item of pink and asking people to make a small donation to the breast cancer campaign.

Alison Bowyer, acting chief executive, said: "We would like to thank all those who attended and staff who also joined in the spirit of the day by wearing a pink item. Both our Haverhill and Bury St. Edmunds sites together raised over £200 towards breast cancer awareness and could not have done so without your help. "The amount of people attending was great to see, people were willing to come along and support us and also get fit whilst doing so."

Meanwhile, hairdressers at Haverhill were a picture in pink as they got into the fundraising mood for Think Pink Days.

Staff at Creations Hair Studio in Gloucester Road, Haverhill, spent the day cutting and washing hair in their pink pyjamas. They collected donations from their customers and hope to produce a healthy profit for the breast cancer campaign.

At Sonia's salon in Queen Street everyone donned pink outfits for the day. The proceeds of a raffle and generous donations from customers raised a total of £270 for the charity.

Health budget cuts face scrutiny again

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

loss of two doctors and nursing staff there if they go ahead.

She welcomed news that the PCT is to carry out more detailed work on the health needs of Haverhill and appoint a business consultant to look into the business case for Haverhill GP practices.

Mrs Sisson said: "I am not too optimistic until I know exactly what they are proposing and we are hoping to arrange a meeting to discuss more details. Hopefully it is a positive thing that they are looking at Haverhill's needs again and they will find a reason to show that we do need this cash. Or they could be looking for an excuse to show that we don't need it. I cannot see how they can just look at our budget without looking at everyone else's as well so that they can compare it."

MP Richard Spring said he was encouraged by the PCT decision and wrote to its chief executive, Carole Taylor Brown, on the issue.

He wrote: "It has been absolutely ridiculous that the fastest growing town in Suffolk, with some specific health problems, should be at the receiving end of budgetary cuts.

"It is a matter for regret that as these problems have been well known to you for six months, it is only now that you are dealing with the possibility of modifying the budgetary proposals."

Stolen bike dumped

A BIKE was stolen from a garden on the Chalkstone estate at Haverhill then dumped nearby.

The BMX bike was taken from a garden in Quendon Place, Haverhill, where it was left insecure between 9.15pm on last Thursday and 8am the next morning. It was later found in the street in Quendon Place. Anyone with information should call Pc Andrew Green at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111

Building site raid

THIEVES stole around 200 engineering bricks from a building site after breaking in by forcing their way through a fence.

The theft happened at the site in Hollands Road, Haverhill, between 10pm on Sunday and 7.30am on Monday. Anyone with information on the incident should call Pc Ian Davies at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Double hit by vandals

COPING stones were broken off a garden wall and thrown at a parked car smashing its windscreen and denting the bonnet. The incident happened at Broad Street, Haverhill, at around 7.15pm last Friday and the car damaged was a black Vauxhall Corsa. Anyone with information should call Pc Hylton Garrick at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Talk on insects

A TALK with sound effects by Tim Gardiner on the grasshoppers and crickets of Essex will be given to the next meeting of the Haverhill branch of Suffolk Wildlife Trust.

The event will be at the East Town Park Centre in Coupals Road at 7.45pm on Wednesday, November 14. Admission is £1.50 and all are welcome.

Calls to back fight for school

Mr Evans has been headteacher at Clare for 11 years and the school received a glowing Ofsted report after an inspection this summer.

Mr Evans said: "My own view is that we should be sticking with what we have got, but if middle schools are to close it is absolutely vital that there remains a functioning school within the community."

"We serve a very large rural community and from Year 8 they go to schools in Haverhill or Sudbury. As the Sudbury schools won't be considered until phase three of the council's plan it is a complete mismatch of timing."

He added: "We have a very good school here, but they are going to close it. I think middle schools serve a rural community very well. If we lose the school I think it will have a detrimental effect on the whole community, not just education."

"It will have a negative impact on people who have moved to Clare and the surrounding villages because of the quality of education here. I will be joining the fight with the parents and hoping to change the minds of the councillors."

Jim Meikle, the CLARE group chairman, said: "The school organisation review panel has asked for strong community support from a wide cross-section of the rural communities in order for them to recommend to the council a secondary school in Clare as a preferred option."

"It is vital that whole communities become involved in the public consultation process and consider the options and support the one best for them."

The Clare action group is holding a public meeting on November 14 to discuss the plan at Clare Baptist Church from 7.30pm. The county council will host a meeting at Clare Middle School on November 19 at 7.30pm.

Abusive sex claims land mum in court

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A MOTHER who bombarded a family with abusive calls and letters because she believed they encouraged her teenage son to have underage sex has been slapped with a restraining order.

Magistrates heard how the defendant's 13-year-old son, who cannot be identified for legal reasons, had a relationship for four months with the 14-year-old daughter of the family concerned.

The mother believed it was a sexual relationship which was being condoned by the girl's parents.

The 51-year-old defendant made a series of abusive and threatening telephone calls and sent emails to the girl and her family.

She also sent a parcel to the girl's father containing a letter and copies of 104 emails exchanged by the teenagers and many of their neighbours outlining her allegations they had indoctrinated her son and encouraged him to take part in sexual acts.

The woman was convicted of harassment after a trial last month and she appeared before Bury St Edmunds magistrates for sentencing.

Prosecutor Emma Lister told the court that when the defendant was arrested by police she said she was distressed and angry because her allegations against the family had not been taken seriously.

She admitted sending letters to the family and neighbours, saying she would do it again to protect her son.

She told police: "I hoped they would be shocked, sickened and disgusted by it. They are child abusers."

Miss Lister said the offence was aggravated because the harassment was persistent, aggressive and continual.

Philip Farr, defending, said the offence arose from a genuine grievance about unlawful sexual activity involving her son, and she only took matters into her own hands after contacting the proper authorities.

He said: "She acted out of a misguided sense of duty rather than malice."

"There were not threats of violence or actual violence, only verbal abuse and the real menace was the stress and worry caused to the family."

The woman was made the subject of an 18-month community service order, with a prohibited activity requirement that she did not contact the family, go to the street in Haverhill where the family live or raise her grievances with the family or anyone else except the proper authorities.

Magistrates imposed a restraining order on her for a year, ordered her to pay £500 compensation to the family and pay £790 costs.

Greece is the word for primary pupils

PUPILS at a primary school donned some traditional costumes and transformed their classroom into another country for a Greek Day. Pupils at Place Farm Primary School in Haverhill spent a whole day in Greek mood, sampling food, trying their hand at traditional songs and dances, as well as taking a look at the country's history.

Shock over 'low' metal theft

A SALVATION Army Captain returned from a trip to discover that thieves had stripped the lead from two porches at his church hall in Haverhill.

Captain Stuart Ashman said the lead had been completely removed from the two porch roofs, each an area of about 10ft by 8ft, exposing bare rafters underneath. As soon as the theft was discovered members of the Salvation Army had to put up tarpaulin to prevent the building being open to the elements.

The cost of the replacing the lead will be around £200-300, which should be covered by insurance.

Captain Ashman said: "I did not notice because I have been away, but someone noticed guttering and drain pipes at the side of the building where they should not have been."

"Then when they looked up on the roof they discovered all the lead was gone. Fortunately it was not the whole roof, that would have been a disaster."

"I have not had much chance to sort it out yet, it is a big inconvenience and we had to go round there on Saturday to put felt up to protect it from the elements."

"It is a pretty low thing to do, almost unbelievable low, but it was on the local news last week that it is happening a lot at the moment, because the lead and copper is so valuable."

"If they knew what they were doing it would not have taken that long and people would not have realised what was happening."

"If anyone did see anything we hope they will tell the police."

The theft happened at the Chauntry Road hall between 6pm on Monday, October 22 and 9am on Friday, October 26.

Anyone with information should contact Pc Guy Ainsworth at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774 100, or Crime-stoppers on 0800 555 111.

Vandals attack site

FOUR diggers had their windows smashed while parked on a building site in Haverhill.

Windows were also damaged in a portable cabin at the site in Homefield Road, Haverhill, between 11am and 5pm on Sunday. Anyone with information can call Pc Antony Orr at Haverhill Police on (01284) 7741 00.

Firework display in village

ORGANISERS are planning their biggest and best firework display yet at Kedington on Saturday.

The free event at the Great Meadow next to Kedington Community Centre is the third annual display organised by Kedington Community Association and will begin at 6pm, with the first firework display at 7.15pm and a second one at 8.30pm.

There will also be fairground attractions, a barbecue, hot food and a bar. Although the event is free, money raised on the night goes towards the upkeep of Kedington Community Centre and buckets will be taken round to collect donations.

Sue Brown, event organiser, said the displays had been very successful so far and it was hoped to see everyone turn out to support them again this year.

She said: "It is just a family night of fun. We had about 2,000 people there last year.

"The fact that it is free makes it easier for us to control and people are generous because they have not had to pay to get in. We make money in other ways because people have not had to pay £10 or £15 for a family.

"We just want to let people know that it is happening, bigger and better than ever, and hope they will come and join us."

Rail group on track to attract new members

CAMPAIGNERS for the re-opening of a railway line between Colchester and Cambridge are stepping up their efforts for support in the Haverhill area.

The Cambridge to Colchester Rail Renewal Association, which gained more than 11,000 signatures on a petition in this area in 2002, has brought out a new leaflet urging people in Haverhill, Sudbury, villages in between, Linton, the Abingtons and Sawston to join up.

The group points out that Haverhill is the largest town in England without a rail link, with thousands more homes to be built in the town and in other towns and villages along the route of the former line.

Also the existing section of line between Colchester and Sudbury has recently had £7 million spent on upgrading the track. Growing passenger numbers have required a doubling in the number of carriages over the past three years and at peak times up to 40 people have to stand.

The Rev Michael Hill, chairman of the group said: "The railway train is the most environmentally friendly means of public transport. The good times are here again for railways. More people are travelling by train in 2007 than in the last 60 years. The number of passenger trains has increased by 40 per cent in the last 10 years. Why allow yourselves to be deprived of the boon of a railway?

BY Jo Deeks

"The railway would bring improvements in health and safety – by reducing polluting road traffic, taking away the stress of the journeys on polluted roads, by cutting fatalities, especially on the dangerous A1307, and by improving access to Addenbrooke's Hospital for patients, visitors and medical staff from Suffolk and Essex."

In 2003 the association formed its own company and commissioned market research ahead of a full feasibility study which showed more than 72 per cent of respondents would use a restored railway and 6,000 or more single journeys from Haverhill to Cambridge were made each week.

Membership forms are available from group secretary David Edwards at 13 Longleaf Drive, Braintree, CM7 1XS.

Mr Hill said the new leaflet had been produced after the association received great support from the public in the Haverhill area during the summer.

He said: "People want to see the railway as much as they ever did. They are reopening lines in Scotland and Wales, which are no more deserving than ours. We want to remind everyone that there is still a need for the railway and we are not giving up on the idea."

Vandals strike

A CAR parked at Kedington overnight was broken into and vandalised.

The white Vauxhall Nova was parked at Westward Deals, Kedington, between 11.10pm on Monday, October 22, and 6am the next morning. Offenders broke into the car and damaged its CD player and interior light. Anyone with information about the incident should call to Pc Dean Bailey at Clare Police on (01284) 774100.

Theft from car

ITEMS have been stolen from a car parked overnight in Haverhill. A red Renault Clio was broken into at Primrose Hill, Haverhill, between 7.30pm on Sunday and 7am on Monday. Offenders stole a suitcase, a bag and a fleece.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Stuart Wilson at the Haverhill South Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100.

Town's history saved in images

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A THREE-year project to preserve thousands of historic photographs has been completed by volunteers.

Haverhill and District Local History Group worked on the local heritage initiative Images of Haverhill to preserve the group's collection of historic photographs and make them accessible to a wider audience.

The group has a photographic collection of some 7,000 images which provide unique and fascinating views of how the town has changed over the years. Subjects range from Haverhill High Street in the 1860s to the town's vanished windmills.

The grant of £13,470 from the Heritage Lottery Fund was used to conserve original photographs, have them digitally photographed and placed in archival storage. Original mounted photos will be placed in Bury Record Office on long-term loan to ensure preservation in good environmental conditions, while digital and print copies will be kept at the Local History Centre in Haverhill.

Some photographs required treatment by a professional conservator, while history group volunteers cleaned others. More than 1,750 hours of volunteer time, valued in excess of £14,000, were spent on all aspects of the project.

The photos have been catalogued in a computer database and can be searched by subject, personal name, and photographer. The catalogue has located photos of grandfathers who served in the Home Guard during WWII, played in Haverhill Rovers, or worked at Gurteens.

The history group will continue to develop its photographic archive. Donations of photographs, including those of the present and recent past, are welcome.

Photographs are available to view at the local history centre in Haverhill Arts Centre Thursdays and Fridays 2-4pm, Saturdays 10.30am-3.30pm, and the first Tuesday of the month 7-9 pm (access until 8 pm).

After this date any remaining tickets can be purchased from the box office and from Tuesday, November 20, they will be offered to those living in the surrounding villages, subject to availability.

Classroom capers

PIRATES and dinosaurs as well as several Harry Potters turned up for lessons at Coupsals Primary School in Haverhill.

During Book Week at the school, pupils and teachers spent a day dressed as their favourite story book characters. All 187 pupils aged between five and nine joined in and many made their own costumes at home. Other events at the school during the week included a book sale, a visit from the librarian and teachers swapping over to read stories to different classes.

Man jailed indefinitely

AN ARMED robber who targeted several churches in Suffolk – including one at Haverhill – and stole an elderly woman's car at gun-point has been jailed indefinitely.

Carl Dagg, 35, admitted more than 100 offences, mostly of burglary, in the county over a period of several weeks, at one stage at the rate of one a day.

His offences included aggravated burglary with a gas powered air weapon, stealing cash from St Felix Church in Haverhill, and another burglary at a property in Wentworth Terrace, Haverhill, both in May.

At Ipswich Crown Court Recorder Martyn Levett told Dagg the indefinite sentence was because he posed a "serious risk to the public" and would be reviewed for the rest of his life. The judge said: "You committed a prolonged and determined campaign of burglaries intent on targeting homes for the elderly, sports clubs, residential homes, village halls and churches. You have now been convicted for the fifth time for burglary and it seems to me that the sentence is entirely justified."

Dagg, of Foundation Street, Ipswich, had held up a 69-year-old pensioner and stole her car from outside a church near Ipswich, while he was high on drugs. This was two days after the Haverhill offences and he was arrested after a police chase.

Psychiatric reports on Dagg requested by defence barrister Lindsay Cox showed he was suffering from both anxiety and depression and was not given sufficient treatment.

Thieves in raid on joinery company

A JOINERY company is offering a £250 reward for help in catching thieves who stripped its premises of thousands of pounds worth of tools.

Suffolk and Essex Joinery in Rookwood Way, Haverhill, was targeted by thieves who smashed the back door to get in between 11am on Saturday, October 20, and 6am on Monday, October 22.

A spokesman for the firm said a large amount of tools was taken, including many power tools, some of them belonging to the company and others to staff members. It had been necessary to buy new tools before work could start on the Monday morning.

The spokesman said: "The lads came in and found the back door smashed open and most of the tools gone.

"They seemed to know exactly what they wanted. They are tools that are used every day and we would like to recover them if we could. We have been broken into a couple to times before and we have put in CCTV cameras now, which has cost us even more money."

The firm employs a total of around 100 staff, most of them on site, with 14 at the Rookwood Way premises and another six at other premises in the town.

The company is offering the reward for information leading to the recovery of the tools and the arrest and conviction of the offenders.

Anyone with information should call Pc Elaine England at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

New date for charity auction

A CHARITY auction which fell victim to England's World Cup rugby final has been rearranged for Saturday, November 24.

The Focus on Africa charity, which is building an orphanage and a school in Kenya, originally organised the event at Castle Manor School in Eastern Avenue, Haverhill, on Saturday, October 20.

But Paul Turner, one of the organisers, said only 11 people turned up and it was decided to postpone the auction.

He said: "We felt it would not be fair to the people who had donated things to go ahead as we would not have been able to raise much for the charity, so we decided to postpone it."

The chance to buy VIP trips to top football clubs will be among the tempting lots on offer at the charity auction at the same venue, starting at 7pm, with viewing from 6pm.

A total of 95 items will be up for bids, including a VIP day to see West Ham play Everton on December 15, a VIP trip for two to see Norwich play, a signed Liverpool football, a signed Cliff

Richard album, as well as engineering services, MoTs, cinema tickets, meals and much more.

Entry is free, with catalogues £2, and all profits will go to the charity.

For more information about the charity visit the website www.focusonafrika.co.uk or ring Brian Boltwood on 07793 737480.

MP's praise for volunteers

MP RICHARD Spring praised the work of volunteers when he was invited by Haverhill Association of Voluntary Organisations (HAVO) to be the guest speaker at its annual meeting.

Mr Spring said: "HAVO carry out a large amount of good work in the local community by helping the voluntary sector achieve its aims.

"I am a strong supporter of HAVO and was delighted to have the chance to express my thanks and appreciation to all those involved."

Firm will light up sky at landmark

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A LASER company has won the job of lighting up one of the country's most famous landmarks – Blackpool Tower.

Haverhill company, Laser Technology Ltd, has been awarded a groundbreaking contract to provide monumental laser effects for Blackpool Tower.

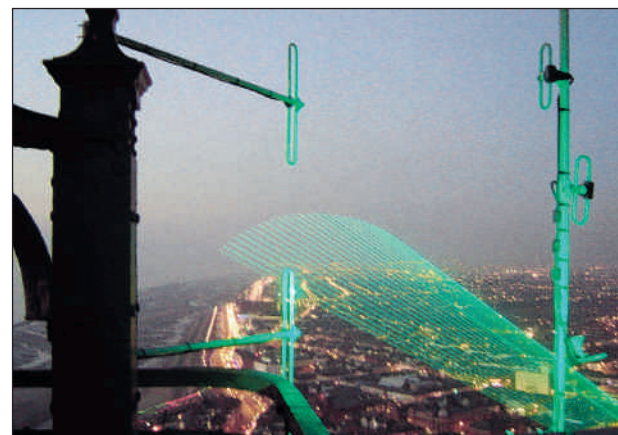

The company previously helped create the laser lit Spirit of Enterprise sculpture at the entrance to Haverhill.

Managing director Dave Hickford said: "Laser Technology were delighted to be awarded this exciting and innovative contract.

"Lasers will project vivid beams and patterns covering the skyline in all directions from the top of the tower.

"This effect will be clearly visible from up to 30 miles away, thus drawing attention to the Blackpool resort on a far grander scale than previous lighting effects have been able to."

It will be the first laser in the world to be operated remotely via radio control using high speed Ethernet wireless links from the studio based at the Illuminations HQ linking to Blackpool Tower and Blackpool International Airport.

The project team worked in consultation with the airport to alleviate any potential interference with flights at Blackpool International Airport.

They are also working with air traffic control to ensure flights are not disrupted during operational times.

Cash rolls in from rock night

ROCK and roll fans shook the roof at their local arts centre and raised more than £600 for a hospice at the same time.

The rock and roll night, complete with Billy Fury look-alike, at Haverhill Arts Centre raised £615 for St Nicholas Hospice at Bury St Edmunds. Colin and Rita Bateman, who run a cake stall on Haverhill Market, presented Peter Dawkins, St Nicholas Hospice shop manager with the cheque to go towards St Nicholas at Home.

The hospice is developing its services to offer patients more support if they prefer to die in their own homes.

Peter Dawkins said: "Rita and Colin are absolutely terrific people, and great supporters of St Nicholas Hospice all year long. They are regular customers at the Hospice shop and this donation is a terrific start to the St Nicholas at Home Appeal." St Nicholas Hospice relies on charitable donations from the local community to provide care and comfort to people with a terminal illness, and support for their family, friends and carers. All of this is provided free of charge to those who need it, but running costs are over £3million per year with only a quarter coming from government sources.

Prison bid for more cell blocks

A SUFFOLK jail where officers have complained of staff shortages looks set to get two more cell blocks housing more than 100 extra prisoners.

Plans submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council include two new accommodation blocks at Highpoint Prison, Stradishall, - each housing 64 inmates.

Also in the application is an extension of the healthcare block, extensions to the gymnasium to form a weights room, to the control centre to provide additional office space, the custody suite and the segregation block to form 10 more cells.

The plans also include erection of a canopy over the staff and visitors' entrance, a conservatory to the officers' mess, a training block, a 66-space contractors/overspill car park, re-modelling of existing car park to create an additional 38 car parking spaces and erection of a 5.2m high double security fence.

A spokesman for the Ministry of Justice said: "If planning permission is granted, it is anticipated that the first house block will be ready for us in September 2008.

"No firm decision has been made as to timescales for the second house block.

"The planning permission sought includes the conversion of some existing buildings to meet the needs of an increased population.

"There will be a proportionate increase in prison staff to meet the demands of the increase in prisoner numbers."

The right wine

WHAT should be at the top of every Christmas host's priority list?

Serving a decent wine of course. But when you don't know your Merlot from your Muscadet selecting the right festive tippie can prove tricky.

Even if you are something of a wine connoisseur, deciding when to bring that ageing bottle of port up from the cellar can be a tough task. A treasured red kept for a special seasonal toast could turn into sorry sour grapes if you've not stored it correctly.

For wine novices, Christmas can often be full of anything but good cheer – yet more and more of us are buying it by the binful.

More than 13.8 million Britons buy at least one bottle of wine to keep and two million plan to buy or build some form of wine storage within the next five years, according to recent research by Standard Life.

If you've been bitten by the wine bug then Christmas is the ideal time to start your own 'cellar'. From leaving a small something out for Santa, to serving unexpected relatives, not to mention last-minute gifts, the right wine will oblige – which is why you should have plenty in stock.

Get to know your bouquets – it'll make the festive season go with more flair!

Before you make some buying blunders, stock up on basic knowledge and start your collection with the help of renowned wine writer, Tim Atkin.

He's put together Spiral Cellar's guide Buy Now, Drink Later? with advice on buying, storing – and then drinking – quality wines.

"A good cellar should include wines for a variety of occasions, from a neighbour popping in for a quick drink to a smart dinner party. I try to have a selection of ready-to-drink wines close at hand, as well as wines that are maturing," says Atkin.

Toast the season with some of his helpful hints.

BUY RIGHT – If you are buying to store, Atkin recommends snapping up at least six bottles of each product that takes your fancy. That way you can see how the wine develops over time.

GIFT ADVICE – If you are planning to give a bottle as a Christmas present then consider what would be best to store, and point out to the recipient that you are giving them something that will keep. You want them to savour your gift, not open it late into the night in a New Year's Eve blur.

HOW TO STORE – Storing wine is not as simple as you might think. Standard Life estimates that £3.5 billion worth of wine is stored incorrectly in the UK. Consider the following

■ DESIGN YOUR OWN CELLAR . . . be sure to store your wine at the right temperature to ensure that it doesn't age prematurely – it should taste better following the correct storing procedures.

makes the day

before you stack up your new collection in the garage, or behind the Christmas tree.

TEMPERATURE – The ideal temperature for most wines is 12-13C. Try to avoid storing your wine where temperatures are likely to change. Airing cupboards, kitchens and attics will age your wine prematurely, while garages and sheds will get too cold during the winter months. If you don't have a cellar then a better option would be at the back of a cupboard, or under the stairs.

HUMIDITY – While humidity won't damage the wine itself it can cause labels to go mouldy which in turn will reduce the market value of your wine. A humidity of around 70 per cent is about right.

VIBRATIONS – A factor often overlooked, vibrations can be detrimental to wine quality in medium to long-term storage. One way to avoid this is to invest in a Eurocave.

POSITIONING – Be sure to lie your bottles down for storage. This keeps the corks moist and non-porous. It is best to go for a good quality rack made from wood and metal.

HOW TO SERVE – A well-aged treasured bottle from the cellar is a wonderful way to help the Christmas dinner go down. But bear in mind that the ageing of the wine is not all there is to it. The correct serving of the product is just as important to ensure it stays in the best possible condition.

■ CHEERS . . . sharing a bottle of wine is a bonding experience.

■ WINE . . . can make or break an occasion.

On the board

FORMER Mayor of St Edmundsbury Coun Frank Warby has been welcomed by West Suffolk landlord, Havebury Housing Partnership, to its board of directors.

Coun Warby has been a borough councillor representing Moreton Hall in Bury St Edmunds since 1999. He was elected to Suffolk County Council in 2004 when he also became a member of the St Edmundsbury cabinet, holding the position of portfolio holder for housing, health and crime for two years. Coun Warby is currently deputy mayor of St Edmundsbury, having completed his mayoral year in May.

He joins two other council nominated members on the Havebury board, which also includes five members of Havebury's tenants' forum, and takes over the position from former councillor John Wayman.

Anyone with information about this incident should call Pc Brendan McKenna at the St Edmundsbury Rural South Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crime-stoppers on 0800 555 111.

Hairdresser takes her salon on the road

A HAIRDRESSER who got tired of sitting in a traffic jam travelling to work at a salon in Cambridge decided to use her talents nearer home by setting up her own mobile business.

That was last year and now Louise Tuckey, who is making a real success of her venture, is the latest business to back the Weekly News Buy Local campaign.

"I decided to start my own mobile hairdressing business here in Haverhill and surrounding villages – but with a difference. I give an excellent high quality service, using only professional products, at a reasonable price. Just the sort of service you would expect from a good quality salon, and it is definitely paying off.

"I have only been working in the area a short time but my phone doesn't stop ringing and some clients have already booked in for Christmas. I am fully insured, up to date with the latest styles and trends, but also happy to do more traditional styling for my older customers."

Louise, 32, took up hairdressing five years ago, deciding she wanted a complete career change from her previous job running a livery yard looking after people's horses.

Louise said: "I had just had enough, it was very hard work. I had worked in a hairdressers when I was at school and always regretted not doing a hairdressing apprenticeship at the time. So I did my training and now I can offer people salon treatment in their own homes."

Louise covers all of Haverhill, as well as villages towards Saffron Walden, Horseheath and Linton and is willing to travel reasonable distances.

She is flexible about her working hours, including evenings and daytime work, as well as weddings. For advice or appointments ring 07919 185306.

Key to success for firm

A RECRUITMENT company at Haverhill has been acquired by another firm in the same town.

The directors of Solutions in Recruitment Ltd of Queens Square announced its operational recruitment activities had been acquired by Key Recruitment based in Anne of Cleves House.

Jenny Wrightson, a director of Key Recruitment, said: "Solutions in Recruitment has built up many successful relationships with candidates and clients.

"This transfer to the team at Key Recruitment is great news for them both and will increase the range of services and opportunities available to them."

Mrs Wrightson has worked in the recruitment industry for 25 years, founding the general recruitment group, Barmine Ltd, which includes the Key Personnel and Select Recruitment brands.

Tim Radford, a director of Solutions in Recruitment, said: "Both Lynne and myself would like to thank all the staff, candidates and clients for their hard work, commitment, enthusiasm and support over the last nine years and wish them every success in the future."

Kedington

AT THE monthly meeting of the parish council chairman Coun Terry Wheeler welcomed those present including County Councillor, the Rev Karen Knight, Borough Councillor Marion Rushbrook, Shaun Jarvis of the Wildlife Group and three members of the public.

In the open meeting before the meeting proper, parishioners raised the question of vehicles creating problems by disregarding parking restrictions and parking too close to junctions, raising fears of serious accident. This has been reported to the police, but no action appears to have been taken.

The problem of dog droppings seems to be getting worse and the dog warden does not appear to visit the village. It was proposed to have a letter on the subject published in the Ketton Review.

Coun Knight reported on the progress of schools working together. Care of the elderly was also raised, with a public meeting planned at the end of the month to discuss the issue. It was proposed to make the county council aware of the dangerous situation at the river bridge at Couples Road, adjacent to the golf course.

The library was congratulated on attracting a record number of children to take part in this year's

Firefighters bring a special safety message to tots

TWO pre-schools enjoyed visits from Suffolk Fire and Rescue Service.

The visit to Castle Camps Pre-School was arranged to help with their topic, "transport and people who help us". The children were shown the fire engine, its equipment, the uniforms and heard the siren. Chris Hare, fire service leader, read the children a story explaining the importance of fire safety.

Rosie Dockerill, pre-school supervisor, said: "The children were absolutely delighted when the fire engine pulled up and it is so important that we teach them how dangerous fire can be."

Anyone who wants to contact the pre-school can contact Rosie on 07796 292982.

Children at the Methodist Church Playgroup in Haverhill also had the chance to see a fire engine.

The playgroup meets on Monday to Friday mornings from 9am to 11.30am and spaces are available. Contact Dorothy Parker on (01440) 702 471 for more information.

reading game, The Big Wild Read.

A reminder was given of the borough's scheme for recycling used batteries.

These should be left on top of the blue bin on collection day. A new collection bag will be left in its place.

Coun John Pelling, village

history recorder, reported on a very successful history evening held at the Community Centre on October 5. Some 600 slides are now available and the parish council will discuss safe storage of the slides and equipment.

Sgt Ireland, of the Safe

Neighbourhood Team, spoke about vandalism in the village. He said the police were responding to the public concern and one youngster had been issued with a warning order.

However, reports had been received from the public that calls and complaints to the police had received a limited response. The latest incidents included damage to the new footbridge in Mill Road, arson attempts on the library and various acts of vandalism both at the community centre and village primary school. The school reported that vandalism had cost more than £500. A letter has been sent to the local MP Richard Spring, pointing out that since the introduction of Safer Neighbourhood Teams to replace village policemen across the county, Kedington has suffered its worst bout of anti-social behaviour.

Although the police have increased patrols in the village, it is believed the vandals are using mobile phones when police patrols are spotted in the village. It was suggested that a public meeting be arranged at the community centre to discuss the situation.

Following the complaints by residents of the state of the new cemetery, it has been agreed with the grass contractors Herald, that they return to the old method of grass cutting.

The school crossing supervisor has reported severe problems with cars parking near the crossing and in West End Lane. It was agreed that the parish council purchase a lollipop for the school crossing lady in West End Lane, worded "Slow Down Children".

Vandals have broken the windows of the Millennium Park shelter. As the cost of replacing the special glass is so high it is proposed to investigate replacing them with unbreakable material.

Ambulance drivers have complained of not being able to locate a resident in School Crescent. The council agreed to write to the county council requesting a sign with house numbers indicated.

Arrangements were made for the laying of the poppy wreath at the war memorial on Remembrance Sunday.

Sweet talking to bring down the house!

BE TRANSPORTED back in time on Friday when the sounds of ELO come to the Haverhill Arts Centre. Back in the 1970s and 80s, the Electric Light Orchestra shone with diamonds like Mr Blue Sky, Sweet Talking Woman, Turn to Stone and Evil Woman. ELO Tribute appear at 8pm. ■ Multi-award winning musician Preston Reed will be at the arts centre on Saturday, drawing on his blues, rock, funk and jazz influences. He will be playing acoustic, electric and classical. The concert starts at 8pm. ■ If you missed La Vie En Rose (12A) as part of the French Cinema Season in September, you will be pleased to hear there will be another performance next Tuesday at 7.45pm. From the slums of Paris to the limelight of New York, Edith Piaf's life was a constant battle to sing and survive, to live and love. ■ Following on from the success of the October screening of Atonement (15), the arts centre has slotted in three more performances in November, the first next Thursday at 7.45pm. The team behind Pride and Prejudice reunite for this successful adaptation of Ian McEwan's novel. ■ Colette's Entertainment School present their 2007 show, Bringing Down The House next Friday and Saturday. This year the show is based around Colette's life in music, from her early years right up to the present day. Hurry if you want to come along – the 7.30pm performance on Saturday is sold out and the matinee at 2.30pm on Saturday and the 7.30pm performances on Friday are almost booked.

Haunting stage classics open window on the soul

By Jo Deeks

A GROUNDBREAKING and critically acclaimed group will be bringing their interpretation of two classic plays to Haverhill Arts Centre. Love & Madness Ensemble return to the town with an 11-strong cast to perform two compelling and thought-provoking productions of complementary classics The Tempest, on Friday, November 16, and Frankenstein, on Saturday, November 17. Both take a haunting look at different aspects of humanity and our desire to control nature. Students will be offered special £6 tickets, as The Tempest is being studied at both upper schools in the town. The Tempest, by William Shakespeare, is directed by Jack Shepherd, star of TV's Wycliffe, one of the UK's best known character actors. He has enjoyed a parallel career as a writer and stage director for many years, directing the opening production at Shakespeare's Globe. Frankenstein is adapted by Catriona Craig and directed by Neil Sheppeck, bringing Mary Shelley's classic tale to life in a stunning new adaptation. Catriona Craig is associate director of Love & Madness and also a story-liner and script editor for television in Britain and Ireland.

■ FAST AND BOLD ... Love & Madness Ensemble bring The Tempest and Frankenstein to Haverhill Arts Centre later this month.

Both plays are performed in a fast-moving and bold style that Love & Madness have developed and perfected to great audience and critical acclaim over the past seven years. They take classical theatre and new adaptations of classic novels and re-invigorate them, making them accessible to new and especially younger audiences, while retaining the language and spirit of the originals in a way that also satisfies established theatre-goers. Tickets are available from the box office on (01440) 714140.

HAVERHILL WEEKLY NEWS

MOTORING

Tyre maker shows wheel vision

FORWARD-THINKING tyre manufacturer Kumho is paving the way for the world's first truly eco-friendly racing car. Inspired by the company's success in this year's Le Mans 24 hour race, it decided to employ its unique conceptual abilities to show exactly what an environmentally friendly Le Mans car of the future could look like – the result is the Epoch.

Epoch by name and nature, Kumho's revolutionary single-seater simply bristles with futuristic technology and green credentials. Its chassis is grown from bamboo, thereby providing an immediate carbon offset, while its lightweight body panels are formed from recycled tyre tread rubber.

Power comes from Maglev (Magnetic Levitation) units integral to the four-wheel hubs. Proven in the railway industry, this advanced electromagnetic technology has the advantage of zero friction as well as maximum torque at zero rpm.

As you'd expect from one of the world's leading

■ ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY . . . with recycled rubber and a bamboo chassis, the Epoch is very green, don't expect to see it soon though.

tyre manufacturers, the Epoch also boasts revolutionary tyre technology. Known as EAP (Electro Active Polymer), it allows the tread and even the shape of the tyres to be fundamentally altered simply by passing an electric current through the rubber. This is achieved via the positioning of magnets on the hubs and within the wheel rims. It effectively allows the characteristics of the tyre to be altered at will, to suit different tastes and conditions.

Even the car's interior benefits from an example of Kumho's innovative tyre technology, being clad with the type of scented

'aroma' rubber already available for the tyres of various luxury saloons and compact SUVs.

Epoch is the work of Kumho's in-house designer, Rob Dolton. The only qualified vehicle designer employed within the world's tyre industry, he is retained by Kumho's European Technical Centre in Birmingham specifically to explore future technologies for road and track vehicles, and the tyres they run on. A graduate of the internationally renowned Automotive Design Department of Coventry University, he worked for Fiat Advanced Design in Turin before joining Kumho in 2005.

Diesel cost highest yet

THE AVERAGE price of diesel has soared to a record high of 99.95p a litre, the AA has said.

The new price is higher than the previous peak of 99.72p a litre reached on August 1 last year.

Petrol prices, however, are still below their highest-ever, and are now averaging 97.76p a litre.

This compares with the petrol record – also achieved on August 1, 2006 – of 98.54p.

The AA said competitive supermarket pricing was helping to restrain petrol prices, despite the 2p a litre increase in fuel duty which took effect on October 1.

The four main supermarkets are charging on average 95.81p for petrol, compared to 97.95p for the non-supermarket sector.

Regional price variations are showing a north-south divide. The price of petrol in Scotland is averaging 96.5p a litre. This is almost 2p less than the 98.2p average in London.

Paul Watters, head of AA public affairs, said: "Diesel prices have been growing faster than petrol due to impending seasonal demand for heating oil in the USA. Compared to the summer when both fuels reached parity on price, diesel is now 2.2p dearer than petrol."

He continued: "Roller-coaster soaring oil prices, with this week's new records set to extend the pain further, are placing ever greater pressure on fuel producers and retailers to pass on the extra cost to drivers.

"Even now, petrol is 11.13p per litre more expensive than the same time last year."

Prize draw marks 30 years

STEVE GOLDSMITH is celebrating 30 years in business this coming November and, to mark the occasion, the dealership is holding a prize draw to win £1,000. Any customer buying a car during November will be automatically entered into the draw.

Steve Goldsmith started in the motor trade in November 1977 when he opened a garage, car sales and petrol station in Upminster, Essex. Right from that first day Steve's philosophy was to sell the best low mileage cars in the area featuring Ford Escorts and Cortinas, Morris Minors and Rover 2000s – the popular cars of the day. He started to build up a local customer base and soon had lots of repeat business.

In 1983 Steve moved to Great Sampford and was selling prestige cars from his home and local garage until he was approached by a large company in Essex to become their general sales manager in charge of three Honda outlets. During the next five years Steve helped to establish the company as the number one Honda dealership in the UK. He was then headhunted by another group who were looking to break into the Honda sales network and saw Steve as an ideal sales director having a huge knowledge of buying and selling low mileage quality cars.

In 1990 Steve decided to set up on his own again selling low mileage models and moved to Linton in 1992 where he has established Steve Goldsmith Cars as the place in Cambridge to buy quality used vehicles.

Their cars are all displayed in three units, which cover 10,500sq.ft and are all beautifully present-

Steve Goldsmith Cars celebrates a superb car record

■ STEVE GOLDSMITH CARS . . . always a friendly and relaxed atmosphere at the Linton site where a superb array of cars is available for viewing.

■ WORTH A VISIT . . . Steve Goldsmith Cars are associated with quality.

ted so that when you arrive you can browse around, taking your time whatever the weather. Their customers have remarked that their relaxed, non pushy approach to selling cars is a pleasant breath of fresh air away from the normal, high pressure sales techniques that most garages seem to employ.

The dealership always have up to 70 low mileage, quality cars in stock for you to browse and consider for purchase. Why not have a cup of tea or coffee and take your time looking round? If you see something you want then their sales team will try to help you buy it rather than "sell" it to you.

All their models are carefully prepared before being offered for sale and come with Steve Goldsmith guarantees and MOTs where required. There is always a friendly and relaxed atmosphere at the dealership so come along and have a browse.

If you require finance to assist with the purchase of your car, then the dealership can offer you a range of competitively priced packages that can be tailored to your specific circumstances. Their sales team is fully trained to help you choose the best option and to make the process as smooth as possible, they will also take your existing vehicle in part-exchange.

You can find Steve Goldsmith Cars at The Grip, Linton in Cambridgeshire (CB1 6NR) or, for more information, telephone (01223) 891216. You can also visit their website at www.stevegoldsmithcars.co.uk

EMPLOYMENT NEWS

News

Today a Coach Driver, tomorrow who knows?

Coach Driver Noel Thomas is about to move into Management.

The transport industry was awash with rumours of a major development yesterday as stories began to emerge of the offer National Express was making to PCV-qualified Coach Drivers. Sources close to the company suggested that the news would rock the industry.

Top pay

Not only does National Express offer high rates of pay, but they pay their Coach Drivers for every minute they're at work, and not just the hours they're at the wheel, as some companies do. A National Express Manager said, "We're really ahead of the competition in that way. We just think it's unfair that Coach Drivers should be at work and not be getting paid."

Astonishing

If that's not enough for our nation's Coach Drivers, the astonishing rewards system offers even more. The company has an Xceptionals scheme which offers extra rewards for a job well done. On top of that, the development opportunities are excellent too. The company provides training such as defensive driving and manual handling, and even runs leadership courses to support their Coach Drivers' development.

Coach Drivers don't have to remain Coach Drivers forever if they have other ambitions. Many National Express Coach Drivers have moved on to be Controllers and Managers elsewhere in the business.

HR Manager Jo Smith said, "There's so much going for Coach Drivers here. We are always in the market for great professional individuals for our sites at Heathrow, Gatwick and Stansted. If you would like to join us, all you have to do is call 0845 345 0355, visit www.nationalexpress.jobs, or www.nationalexpressjobs.mobi from your mobile phone.

YOUTH FOOTBALL REVIEW

Lambert leads way as Wratting power home

Cherry Hinton U11 1 West Wratting U11 7

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE U11 CUP, FIRST ROUND

LAMBERT hit four goals as Wratting cruised into the second round with this emphatic win.

Wratting keeper Millar made a top drawer save in the opening seconds to keep the home side out, but the visitors took the lead on nine minutes with a well-taken goal by Lambert, who flicked the ball over his head and volleyed in.

Bush hit post and bar while Payne, Foster and Lambert were all denied by the keeper.

Lambert claimed his second with a good finish after a throw-in and then completed his hat-trick from an Ager pass.

Stevenson then set up Lambert to slam in his fourth before the scorer turned provider for Bush finishing to make it 5-0.

Cherry Hinton pulled a goal back and went on to produce few chances, but could not beat Millar.

Wratting continued to press, Bush finished a well-worked move between Elliott and then Ankers to make it 6-1 before Stevenson grabbed a goal on full time.

Gunners roasted – on and off pitch

GRAMPIAN were on the end of a thrashing on a wet and windy Sunday morning at the Sports Field. After going 4-1 down at the break, Grampian went on to concede two more goals in the second half as they leaked six for the second home game running. Luke Halls had actually opened the scoring for Gunners within the first 90 seconds, but it was downhill from then on. Grampian manager Simon Youngs said: "We were awful and the basics went out of the window. "Some of the boys need to take a good hard look at themselves."

tapping in after a fantastic double save from Knightly.

West Wratting U10 Reds 3 Sawston United U10 2

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10D

IN A pulsating encounter, that see-sawed one way and then the other, it was always going to be difficult to predict the eventual winner of this tight clash.

Wratting enjoyed the greater possession throughout the match, but the Sawston team were a menace whenever they pressed forward.

The deadlock was broken on five minutes when a Will Bailey free-kick was parried and Boyles prodded the ball home for Wrattting.

The lead was shortlived as the visitors forced an equaliser before the break.

The second half followed a similar pattern, and, once again Wrattting took the lead with a great individual goal from Bailey.

Back came Sawston and an excellently worked corner routine found a player free at the back post to smash the ball home to level the scores.

With little over five minutes remaining, a great

HAWKS struggled to get going in this difficult fixture and were 2-0 down at the interval.

Anders Pilly gave the visitors hope when he pulled a goal back, but a wicked deflection made it 3-1 to the Lions.

Hawks desperately tried to get back in to the game with Branham Ince going close, while at the other end, Milo Holmes kept the Hawks in the game with some fine saves.

Jake Ryan and Kieran Grace carried the fight to the Lions, but once again they broke and made it 4-1.

In the final minutes, man of the match, Milo Holmes cracked home a stunning long-range effort to make it 4-2.

Angels get back on right road

Sudbury Black Horse 2 Delaware Feather Angels 5

TREADFIRST SUDBURY SUNDAY LEAGUE, DIVISION FIVE

ANGELS returned to winning ways on Sunday with a win against lowly Black Horse. Delaware went 1-0 up early on, with Liam Botten volleying the ball in from a corner. A second goal was soon added following some fine interchangeable passing between Sean McCormack and Matthew Morrison, which ended with the former slotting the ball neatly past the goalkeeper for his third goal of the season.

To their credit, Black Horse fought back with two goals in quick succession, catching the Delaware defence off guard both times to make it 2-2 at half-time.

The second period saw the Angels dominate, and secure a 4-2 lead through goals from Morrison and Sam Strasters. Morrison added his second, and his side's fifth, 15 minutes from time to earn Delaware a deserved and much-needed victory.

FOOTBALL

It was 'Hall right on night for Rovers

HAVERHILL continue to hold the Indian sign over Mildenhall after they followed up their FA Cup success over Trevor Munns' side with a convincing 3-1 league victory at Hamlet Croft on Tuesday evening.

Haverhill Rover 3 Mildenhall Town 1
RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

Nick Impey put Rovers in front midway through the first-half and Marc Abbott's 20-yard drive doubled the hosts' advantage in the second half. Mildenhall halved the deficit 10 minutes from time through Paul Miles, but Adam Bensaud made the game safe for Haverhill with a curling free kick before the end.

Rovers assistant boss Colin Vowden, who used to play for Mildenhall, said: "It was another great result for us against Mildenhall to go with Saturday's win over Lowestoft."

"We have proved in the last two games we can match the top sides in the Premier Division. We're on a nice little run now and we've got some games in hand, so we'll be looking to move up the table."

■ Rovers have two chances to pick up more league points in the coming week with away matches at lowly Woodbridge on Saturday and Histon reserves on Wednesday evening.

TENNIS

Hundon's team repel Haverhill's challenge

HAVERHILL Tennis Club held two tournaments over the half-term break – an Orange team event and part of the Junior Open, which was rained off during the summer. In the team event, Hundon did exceptionally well to beat two teams from Haverhill in a closely-fought competition. Haverhill 1999 had to play off against the younger Haverhill 2000 side to decide the runner-up spot, which the older children won. The winning Hundon team was Freddie Holmes, Alexander Packer, Louis Barthorpe and Joshua Stevens. The Haverhill 1999 side was Gregory Coston, David Scott, Clementine Walsh and Maisie Bott. Gregory Birch, Prince Mutswunguma, Callum Edwards and Tiegian Chaplin made up the Haverhill 2000 line-up. In the Junior Open, the 1997 girls' winner was Christie Roberts, who beat Harriet Patrick in the final by eight games to six after an epic match. Roberts has just qualified for the regional Green Mini Tennis Competition, where the best players from around Suffolk will take part. In the 1997 boys' event, Kane Smith beat Rory Elston to take third spot. This was the prelude to the final between Angus Parsonage and James Grocott.

■ AWARDS TIME . . . Youngsters proudly wear the medals they won for achieving success in the two tournaments at Haverhill Tennis Club over the half-term break.

CP.

Grocott had his chance to win during the set, but Parsonage held his nerve and eventually won 7-3 in the tie-break. It was a great result for the winner, who was the youngest in the competition. In the 1995 boys' competition, Johnathan Wise, from Lavenham Tennis Club, fought off a spirited display by Christopher Parsonage to take third place. This set the scene for the final, in which Ross Tobin played a very clever tactical battle against Joshua Towers to win his first Junior Open title, reversing the result of last year. The two players have represented Haverhill all over East Anglia this year and their tennis has improved tremendously.

■ The club's next event is a Starter Tournament this weekend for children born in 1994 or later. The girls' event is on Saturday and the boys' on Sunday. Further information on the competition, club or coaching, from Robert Jeffs on 07906 814108.

Skipper Hunt at the double

Haverhill 3 Lowestoft 1

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

HAVERHILL captain Marcus Hunt converted two penalties to help his side to an impressive defeat of the former champions on Saturday.

The first spot-kick arrived on 30 minutes when Colin Vowden played in Martin Westcott. He was tripped by the visiting keeper, who was sent off for a professional foul, and Hunt put the penalty away. Rovers were then gifted a second penalty five minutes later when an attempted cross by Andy Palazon was handled in the area, and again Hunt made no mistake from 12 yards.

Haverhill made it 3-0 two minutes into the second half when a Sam Green cross was controlled by Westcott for Nick Impey to nip in to touch the ball home. Lowestoft got a goal back on 50 minutes, but Haverhill were rarely troubled.
